By order of the Chief of Police, the loafers on Market street were kept on the move Saturday night. Here of late it had become almost impossible for a lady to pass along the East side of this thoroughfare for fear of insult or being jostled by the obnoxious and noxious crowds assembled at various points along the street. The Police kept them going Saturday night and it is to be hoped they will keep it up.

Saturday evening Officer Toile arrested three hoboes who had just dropped off a Westbound freight at the Wall street viaduct. They gave their names as C. H. Martin, James Morrissey and E. Hall and claimed Covington as their home. On being searched a dangerous looking knife was found on Hall. The blade was open and it was evident he was ready for business. When arrested he made a move for his pocket, but the Officer was too quick for him and struck his hand with his billy. Had he reached his knife there might have been some blood spilling. They were jailed and will be tried in the Police Court this afternoon.

OUR SECOND GREAT SEMI-ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE

Begins Monday, August 12th,

And continues until every job in our house is sold. Last summer we contracted for extra advertising space in order to draw your attention to our sale; advertised a great and sweeping clean-up sale; stuck to the letter to what we advertised, and as a result had the most satisfactory Buggy Sale ever held in Maysville carrying over one buggy only. This year we do not intend to have one rig left in our repository, and are marking the vehicles at such ridiculously low prices, and backing them up with such a strong guarantee, that you cannot help but buy if you are needing a rig of any kind. The case is this: We have the Vehicles and need the money; you have the money and need the Vehicles. Now is your opportunity.

We include in the sale all Buggies, Runabouts, Surreys, Phaetons and Carts in our repository.

Don't you think it will pay you to investigate?

CALL FOR REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

By order of the Republican Executive Committee, the Republicans of Mason county are called to meet in mass convention on Monday, September 2d, 1907, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Representative from Mason county.

W. D. COCHRAN, Chairman.

A. M. January, Secretary.

KENTUCKY'S troubles never cease. We are now threatened with another Louisville street-car strike. A Louisville streetcar strike is awful in its "publicity."

WHY NOT turn CALEB POWERS over to the tender mercies of Preacher WALTON of The Frankfort State Journal? Wouldn't he fix POWERS' clock for him? He would merely bang, draw and quarter him and then eat him up blood-raw.

THAT Louisville lid is a mighty poor top piece. Instead of soaking the Sunday saloon law violators they are generally assessed $15 and allowed to go and sin some more. Mr. BECKHAM should make a better showing than that, at least until after the November election.

A WRITER in the "Free Trade Broadside" wants all the custom houses burned, and all trade with foreign countries made free. He does not suggest how he would raise sufficient revenue for the support of government, but perhaps he would adopt the Cleveland plan of issuing bonds to meet all deficits.

If Judge PARKER wants another lemon he should have it. BILLY BRYAN is one ahead of him anyhow.

JUDGE LANDIS is reported to have suffered a nervous breakdown. Looks as though he ought to be able to stand it if JOHN D. can.—Louisville Times.

THE Kentucky State Journal says that Major DAVID CASTLEMAN's declaration that he will vote for WILLSON amounts to only one vote. The Courier-Journal calls Major CASTLEMAN's change "An important defection." But it's the little votes that count along about November five.

THE Hargis cases at Sandy Hook have again been postponed until October, and, in the meantime, the Hargises and Callabans are free to go where they please. The prosecution was in favor of further delay because it is nearly impossible to have any kind of a trial at Sandy Hook, owing to its inaccessibility. The cases were moved to Elliott county for this very purpose. The people can't help contrasting the Hargis trials with the trials of CALEB POWERS. The latter has been in Jail now four years since his last trial. The law says a man shall be given a trial within a certain prescribed period or he is entitled to his liberty. How long are the Hargis farces and the Powers farces to endure?

RESEMBLANCE.

"It is easy to see that the baby takes after me," Mr. Nupaw asserted. "He is as bald as I am, his eyes are brown as mine, he resembles me in features, he—"

"Also," cut his wife, as the kid set up a howl for his noonday meal, "he goes after the bottle about as often as you do."

Mrs. Nupaw did all the talking for the rest of the evening.

THE 8:20 TRAIN

By S. E. KISER

Harlowe had gone up into the country to spend Saturday and Sunday with his wife and children. They were staying at a pleasant place nearly four miles from the railway station, and it was necessary for him to employ a liveryman to take him down on Monday morning to catch the train at Merri- vale. He was assured that he could make connections without any difficulty if he started at 7:30, as the train was not due to leave Merri- vale until 8:20. Having an important business engagement in the city, however, and in order that there might be no risk, he was ready to start an hour before train time.

The liveryman had conveyed him less than half a mile when something about the harness got out of order, and 15 minutes had elapsed before they were ready to start on again. They made fairly good progress for about a mile and then a bolt gave way, making another delay necessary. The driver had to go to a farmhouse to borrow a monkey-wrench and other things, and Edward Harlowe had begun to be nervous before the journey was resumed. If he had not been burdened with a heavy traveling bag he wouldn't have cared. He could have walked.

"Does this train ever happen to be late?" he asked when they broke down again, a mile and a quarter from the station.

"Oh, yes," he was assured, "it's nearly always five or ten minutes late on Monday mornings. Don't worry. We'll catch it all right. Got lots o' time."

But the driver's confidence was not catching, and at eight o'clock Harlowe had almost decided to walk, leaving his bag to be sent after him by express. Still, he waited when the liveryman assured him that they would be able to go ahead in a minute or two. They did get started again at five minutes after eight, only to have another mishap when the horse picked up a stone while fording a little stream. It took the driver several minutes to get the stone loose, and Harlowe was by that time no longer a patient man. He made disagreeable remarks about his luck and gave a long list of things which he hoped would happen to him if he ever placed confidence in a liveryman again. If he missed his engagement in the city it would cost him dearly, and besides, it would be necessary for him to wait at an out-of-the-way station for seven hours.

"Confound your old horse," he complained, "can't you make him go faster?"

"He's doin' the best he can. Mebby the train'll be late."

"Don't you believe it. If this train were late every other day in the year it would be on time this morning. Jerusalem! Why don't you people out here do a little road-making? This is the worst old cowpath I ever saw!"

Then he looked at his watch. It was 8:12, and they had nearly half a mile to go.

The horse, might have been able to travel half a mile in four or five minutes if the road had been good; but the ruts and stones and mud holes impeded progress. At 8:18 they were a quarter of a mile from the Merri- vale station, Harlowe gave up hope. He knew they could not get there in 15 minutes. Still he implored the driver to hurry, and he ground his teeth to keep from saying the things that were on his mind. He half stood up in the buggy and had his bag by the handle, ready to jump the moment they got within jumping distance. There was, however, no sound of an approaching train, and at last he began to hope luck might for once turn in his favor. On two wheels they rounded a corner where the road was hard and smooth, and the station sprang a short distance ahead of them. The poor old livery horse broke into a run when Harlowe, in spite of the driver's protests, took the whip from the socket and whistled it above the back of the speeding steed.

"Go on! Go on!" he kept urging; "we may catch it yet."

There was a curve just beyond the station, so that the approaching train could not be seen until a few seconds before its arrival. The clatter of the horse's hoofs on the hard road and the whirl of the buggy wheels made it impossible for anything else save a steam whistle to be heard, and as neither Harlowe nor the driver had been startled by a toot the race was continued. Two hundred yards from the station Harlowe yelled:

"There she comes!"

But it was a false alarm. The train was not in sight even when the heaving horse was stopped at the platform. Harlowe jumped before the buggy wheels had ceased to turn, and fearing that his watch might have been slow he rushed to the ticket window. The clock inside indicated 8:24.

"How about the 8:20 train?" he demanded.

"Fifteen minutes late," replied the agent.

A look of supreme disgust settled upon Edward Harlowe's countenance. "Well," he said with withering scorn, "this is a devil of a way to run a railroad!"

Beyond Computation.

"Are there many mosquitoes around here?" "Young man," answered Farmer Cornstossel, "that's a mighty hard question to answer. They're so big an' spry that you can't tell whether there's a whole lot or only a few. There ain't no time to count 'em."

WHY?
That little word and the interrogation point may mean little or it may mean much. When applied to roofing it means a good deal. The manufacturers of and dealers in nearly all "Composition," "Felt" and "Rubber" roofing tell you of their two and three ply roofing and its superior qualities and then ask you $1 to $2 per square more than for single ply. When you examine roofing ask the weight. That's the test. Our Climax Asphalt weighs 60 pounds per square and is as solid as low as the 35 and 40-pound kind. Investigate this before purchasing.

READ THIS AND PROFIT THEREBY!
This is a trying time of the year. Many discomforts arise from the heat. The best way to be comfortable is by bathing often, at least twice daily, and by using a liberal quantity of talcum powder. By bathing often one keeps the skin clean and the pores open, thereby allowing the entire body to "breathe freely," which means perfect health.
The best soap to use for the bath and toilet is Picard's Complexion Soap, a non-injurious, healthful soap. Talcum powder keeps the skin cool, always heat rash, stops chafing and is an excellent toilet requisite. We have a number of kinds.

A VALUABLE HORSE SHOW
John Robinson's Array of Equine Beauties a Show in Itself

Horseflesh has always been more a matter of fad with the owner of the John Robinson Big Circus than one of business, for if a horse caught his fancy the price was a secondary consideration, and the result is the show boasts of the finest lot of horses in the circus world.
From a magnificent herd of Arabian whirlwind steeds of the desert, lithe limbed racing thoroughbreds from Kentucky's bluegrass region, deep-chested English jumpers, and the horse markets of the world furnished the hundreds of broad backed draft horses, all thoroughbred Norman and Percheron stock, down to the diminutive Shetland and Welsh ponies, it is a horseman's paradise, and this show of equine supremacy.
The advance heralds tell of the coming of the show to our city on September 5th and the lovers of all that is to be admired in horseflesh will enjoy the treat.

'Tis Sixty Years Since.
There are two notable and suggestive incidents in the history of this town.
In the hard winter of 1847, just after the subsidence of the great flood of that year, a steamboat—the A. N. Johnson—exploded at a point between Maysville and the town of Manchester. As soon as the news of the frightful disaster was received here, the Cincinnati and Maysville packet, the Boone, then lying at the lower grade, was sent, with physicians, nurses and all necessary supplies, to the relief of the numerous sufferers, all of whom were brought at once to this place and placed in improvised hospitals under the care of competent physicians. The house on Limestone street, now occupied by Mr. H. L. Newell, was then a new building—just finished and never occupied. Here a large number of the patients found welcome rest and relief; others were taken into the homes of hospitable citizens, and the upper chambers of the then new Courthouse on Third street was used as a temporary receptacle for the dead. Nothing was omitted by the sympathetic citizens of the town to give relief to those who survived.
Many years later a railroad accident occurred at the mouth of Lawrence creek, just below Maysville. The incidents attending it are still fresh in the popular memory. It is needless to recount them. But this must be remarked: Here, as before,—in the steamboat disaster of '47—there was no public hospital in this place and no first class hospital accommodations of any sort. It was necessary to send some of the victims to the hospitals of Cincinnati, and while those that remained received every possible attention, how much better it would have been could we have offered them at once all the accommodations of a capacious, well-appointed, modern hospital!

GREAT CANAL

From Ohio River to Lake Erie—Survey Finished. Cost to be $75,000,000

It is announced that the surveys for the proposed canal from Lake Erie to the Ohio river have been completed.
Land for the right of way is now being rapidly acquired and active digging on the waterway will, it is said, begin early next spring.
When the big undertaking is completed it will be possible for lake vessels to carry iron ore direct from Lake Superior to the furnaces in the Pittsburgh district, and to send coal from Western Pennsylvania mines to upper lake ports.
It will require about six years to complete the task and an expenditure of no less than $75,000,000.
The proposed canal will be 133 miles in length, 177 feet in width, and 13 feet deep.
A special line of boats will be constructed for this traffic.
The canal will connect with Lake Erie at a point a few miles west of Ashtabula, run Southward through Creek Valleys, the Mahoning river and Beaver Creek, and join the Ohio river at Beaver, Pa., about thirty miles below Pittsburgh.
The canal will pass through Youngstown, O., Newcastle, and Beaver, Pa., and by means of the Ohio and Monongahela rivers will touch scores of furnaces and other industrial plants and coal fields along the route.

This place was well represented at the Vanceburg Fair last week and at Cherry Grove Campmeeting Sunday.
William Galist, wife and son, Master Leslie Howard of Morristown, Ohio, are visiting her mother, Mrs. K. A. Christman here.
On last Wednesday night, some time between midnight and the "wee small" hours of the morn, Miss Retta Martin, one of our most highly accomplished and handsome young ladies and Mr. Charles Lytle, a very worthy young man from Mt. Carmel, eloped and went to Lexington and were united in wedlock. They are now at home at the groom's elegant home near Mt. Carmel. May God's richest blessings attain them through life in our wish.

TEACHERS RESOLUTIONS

Mason County Colored Institute Closes Its Annual Session

Before adjourning the following was offered at the Institute for Colored Teachers of Mason county held last week in this city:

We, the Committee on Resolutions for the Mason County Institute, do hereby submit the following:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Institute are due our worthy Superintendent, C. D. Wells, who, by his earnest efforts and capable management, has given us one of the best Institutes ever held in the county.

That we extend our thanks to the able instructor, Prof. F. L. Williams, who so courteously and masterfully has presented all the subjects.

Resolved, That the presence of the many visitors has been a source of pleasure to us, and also the presence of the Ministers. We invite them to our future sessions.

That as a body, we owe gratitude to Him who preserves the earth, has cared for our welfare, has exalted us to the high calling—teaching under such favorable auspices—that we implore His guidance and help in the paths of duty.

Resolved, That we extend to the Board of Education a vote of thanks for the use of the High School Building.

Resolved, That by a unanimous vote of the Teachers, that united efforts be used to secure the service of Prof. F. L. Williams as instructor for next year's Institute.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered in the minutes of the Institute and copies furnished the city papers for publication.

AN AERIAL NAVIGATOR.

YOUNG INVENTOR WILL FLY THROUGH THE AIR.

IS NOW HEADED FOR KENTUCKY

State Fair Management Announces His Appearance in Passenger-Carrying Ship.

The problem of aerial navigation has at last been solved. The inventor to attain this desired end is Captain Roy Knabenshue, of Toledo, O., the first American to make a successful flight in an airship. This first flight was made during the World's Fair at St. Louis in October, 1904, when Knabenshue was only in his twenties. He is yet a very young man, but he has talents that he has successfully applied. During the past winter, he has spent his entire time in perfecting a piece of craft to ply the clouds which will carry passengers.

Fortunately for those who will attend the Kentucky State Fair to be held at Louisville, September 16th to 21st, the services of Captain Knabenshue and his passenger-carrying airship have been secured for daily flights during this great exhibition week at the metropolis of Kentucky. The State Board of Agriculture, under whose auspices the fair is to be given, closed a contract with Captain Knabenshue several weeks ago, stipulating therein that his visit to the Kentucky State Fair was to be his only personal appearance in his passenger-carrying airship either in Kentucky or in Southern Indiana.

The big airship will be displayed in an aerodrome when not in operation, permitting visitors at the fair to make a close inspection of it, who will also have an opportunity of taking a ride through the air with Captain Knabenshue if they desire.

Captain Knabenshue is guarding very firmly the secret of the mechanism that enables him to carry passengers into the air, but he has permitted us to give a brief description of his marvelous invention. The elongated gas bag has a capacity of 20,000 cubic feet of hydrogen gas, giving a lifting power of 1,800 pounds. The envelope is 120 feet in length and about 35 feet in diameter. Two mammoth aeroplanes, which serve to resist the wind pressure and propel the vessel, are built on either side. Two delicately constructed engines of twenty horse power each furnish the drawing power, enabling the craft to sail through the uncharted skies at a speed of sixty miles per hour. This speed is attained only in a calm, while in a moderate wind the velocity is reduced to about forty-five miles an hour. With his new airship, Captain Knabenshue is able to sail under any weather conditions.

Resembling very closely the modern coach of a street railway, the carrying car is ninety feet long with cushion seats provided for the passengers. The operator sits at the bow of the vessel and guides it in its journey. Captain Knabenshue has built the propeller and rudder along entirely different lines than heretofore, and the vessel, taken as a whole, but faintly resembles the smaller crafts which heretofore have been shown in this country.

The engagement of Captain Knabenshue and his passenger-carrying airship at the State Fair is for a flight daily for six days, and one or more flights at night, when the world's greatest aerial navigator will use an immense searchlight to guide his passage.

CAPTIVE BALLOON ADDED.

Visitors to the Kentucky State Fair in Louisville, during the week of September 16th, who are not willing to risk their lives in Captain Knabenshue's passenger-carrying airship or in the balloon races, may satisfy their desire to see "how it feels to be in the air" by going up in a captive balloon, which is to be one of the attractions. This balloon, as its name indicates, is firmly tied to the earth, and by means of a windlass it is allowed to rise in the air to a height of 600 feet. It will carry passengers every ten minutes.

HOUSEHOLD CARES

Tax the Women of Maysville the Same as Elsewhere.

Hard to attend to household duties With a constantly aching back. A woman should not have a bad back. And she wouldn't if the kidneys were well. Doan's Kidney Pills make well kidneys. Here is a Maysville woman who endorses this claim:

Mrs. Lizzie Bridges, of 206 West Third street, Maysville, Ky., says:

In March, 1900, I gave a testimonial recommending Doan's Kidney Pills and in it I told how I learned the great value of this remedy. I had been troubled with a bad back and weak kidneys from girlhood and in my efforts to find a cure tried every medicine I could find but without benefit until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They proved just the remedy I needed. They went right to the cause of the trouble and as a result brought relief that led me to testify in their favor. I have never been without Doan's Kidney Pills in the house since. Every spring I take a box whether symptoms of kidney trouble are apparent or not, and in this way keep the kidneys in good condition and guard against attacks of my old trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
